

FLYA natural! wine

“Natural wine” covers some combination of organic (o) and biodynamic (b) farming, plus the use of native yeasts for fermentation. We select only wines “spontaneously fermented”, which simply use yeasts residing naturally on the grapes. Many of these wines are not filtered (nf) and all have minimal sulphur. As a general proposition, natural wines are less manipulated so as to let the grapes and their environs express themselves, sometimes in random fashion. All of our wines are vegan. This list is curated by Mark Bires, not a sommelier but a noted wino. Note that all reds are kept at cellar temperature (~57°). Glasses are 6 ounce pours.

PIQUETTE A centuries old technique, historically made for vineyard workers, now trendy. Made by adding water to stems, seeds, and skins from the initial wine crush, then allowing the remaining sugars to ferment, yielding a lighter, more watery, lower alcohol drink. Fun and easy patio drinking. Ordering a glass bestows hipster status!
